which is claimed by the Raven folks. How Raven Company Got In.

Persons familiar with the doings of S. the Raven will call to mind that this Sunshine company made a lease with the Indians for what would be about ten or twelve claims in the locality known as Indian canyon. Later and on the strength of this deal, congress conceded the company a hundred claims to be preferential rights before the Uintah reserva-tion opening. Of the hundred claims to be allotted the Raven, this company was content to locate but seventy-four. were surveyed and placed on record with the interior department at Later others began to prospect the country. Ayer sent men in there and now these have staked off the claims of the Raven, all but ten or twelve in the Indian Canyon country, and it is the Indian Canyon country, and it is claimed these ten or more have been worked out and that there is no more ore there. One and the only producing nine of the Raven near Fort Duchesne Tono. - Mid. has been jumped, as it were, and no more gilsonite is being shipped from there until an ownership has been es tablished before the interior department. This mine has four feet of gil-sonite at a depth of fifty feet and would continue as an indefinite producer.

Case Comes Up in May.

The Ayer interests are keeping check on what has been shipped to market from this property, and if their ownership, is finally established, will come on to the Raven for damages. The case of the Ayer people is based on the original lease with the Indians and fraud upon fraud is to be alleged in their pleadings before the department of the interior. The case is to be heard on the 8th of May at Washington and the Ayer crowd is confident of win-ning out with their array of evidence to be presented.

Deposits Worth Millions.

The Ayer people are represented by Nathaniel Wilson, an eminent attorney before the department at Washington. He is working in harmony with former Congressman Shafroth of Colorado, the latter representing the Shearer and other interests. The property involved represents many millions of dollars in value, as the deposits of both materials are vast and comprise all there s of it in the United States so far dis covered. The litigation will be watched $7 with interest, most people believing the Raven's rights to have been fraudulently obtained in the first instance.

BACK FROM NEVADA MINES.

Lively Campaigns Are Planned by Superior and Antelope Springs.

Ford W. Correll, manager of the Nevada Superior and Antelope Spring companies' properties, in Humboldt county, Nevada, returned from a ten days' trip to camp yesterday morning, accompanied by the party of eastern men who came out a short time ago to size up conditions for themselves. Not one of them but expressed himself as being more than pleased with what was doing and with the value of the properties as shown by development.

At the Nevada-Superior the shaft has reached the 300-foot level and every inch of the distance has been in ore. During the trip to the mine Manager Correll installed William Gray, well known in Park City as a shift boss at the Daly-West, as superintendent of the mine, Mr. Harrington having tendered his resignation. Levels will now be opened on the 100, 200 and 300-foot marks and by the 1st of June the management will inaugurate ore shipton having tendered his resignation. Levels will be driven in on the vein and after the first 200 feet or so of work ore shoots will begin to appear in these new workings, which are counted upon to provide an enormous area of stoping ground without having to hoist.

L. G. Burton, the local mining engineer and surveyor, went to camp with Manager Ford for the purpose of locating the open cuts and shallow holes have been made and in every one of them good ore is exposed. Many of the same people identified with one are shareholders in the other. It is considered a toss-up as to which end of the marvelous ledge is going to turn out the best, but one thing is considered certain, and that is that both will make rich producers and lasting mines, as the ledge has an average width of probably better than twenty-five feet. The ore carries lead, silver, gold and copper, though lead and silver are the predominant metals. All of the ore mined will be marketed here, where offices of the company have been established.

month without killing the company's teams, developments in the mine have been going on steadily, but without the aid of power drills. The bins are full of ore at the mine and a great deal is broken down that cannot be touched until the bin congestion is relieved. The roads are now getting in shape for hauling again and Mr. Lehman states that, barring heavy storms, the Yankee will be shipping with its accustomed regularity from now on.

Columbus Consolidated Will Shovel It Out Next Week.

Within the next day of two Manager Tony Jacobson will go out to Alta for the purpose of learning conditions underground at his property and to decide the question of shoveling out the road down the canyon. The latter work, Mine Superintendent A. O. Jacobson stated, would most likely be commenced on Monday next, in order that the road could be got in shape for heavy work as early in the coming month as possible. Some ore is being shipped all the time, but the roads are so full of snow that it is impossible to load heavy. The break-up is now at hand and the shoveling out of the road will permit it to dry up much sooner than it otherwise would do.

Stock certificates in the names of these companies were delivered at the stock exchange and the selling of these was on orders from some of the principal bank, and conjectures as to whether the insurance companies were simply employing the banking houses in a brokerage capacity to effect the sales of securities out of their treasury holdings, or whether they had figured as a collateral for loans by the banks, who were liquidating the collateral owing to the shrinkage in values and the wiping out of margins.

The sentimental effect of this selling was bad in any event and had a decidedly depressing effect on speculative sentiment throughout the street. The shrinkage in values also brought out large sales for account of some of the great commission houses and this attributed to the letting go of some speculative accounts. Selling of this character from western sources was particularly marked and had the appearance of being presumably owing to the wiping out of margins.

of this character from western sources was particularly marked and had the appearance of being presumably owing to the wiping out of margins.

Earnest assurances have been heard for some time from some prominent speculative sources that the Wall street commission houses had become practically bare of stocks. This was evidently meant to imply that speculative accounts on the long side had been greatly reduced and that investment buying of a more substantial character had been taking stocks out of the market. The amount of long stocks which came out today in speculative dealing was a surprise and thoroughly discredits the assurances. The movement of currency to San Francisco continued today on a very heavy scale, transfers through the sub-treasury having amounted to over $2.000,000 before 2 o'clock. Engagement was made during the day of $4.000,000 gold for import, most of which was secured in Paris. The decidedly weak return of the Bank of England explained the unwillingness of the London market to part with gold. The bank's holding of bullion fell for the weck nearly $3.500,000, while the loans expanded in the neighborhood of $30,000,000, thus bringing the proportion of reserves to liabilities to below the traditional line of safety at 40 per cent. The retention of the official discount rate at 3½ per cent, with the private rate fully up to that level, made it certain that heavy resort will be made to the bank by the market while this condition continues. Consolidated Gas steadied up on the announcement of a reduction in its dividend to a 4 per cent basis after a long period of decline in expectation of this action. High-grade investment stocks are specially affected by the day's selling. Bear operators were eager sellers on the declines and their buying to cover shorts was responsible for occasional rallies.

to cover shorts was responsible for occasional rallies.

Little support was accorded the market while the liquidation seemed to be forced, but with the lull in the selling pressure measures were taken to effect some restoration of the day's losses. The demand was languid at the recovery until the announcement just before the close of large engagements of gold for import. This stimulated an active demand, Reading leading as at other times during the day and the close was generally firm.

Concerning the strike in the Hanapah company's mines, the Tonopah Miner says: "Frank Work, the efficient manager of the Hanapah mine, in the Hanapah district eighteen miles east of Tonopah, was made happy on Tuesday last by the men employed in running a crosscut on the 300 level. When in eighty-three feet they encountered a ledge of fine silver ore that gives assays averaging $401. All but $5 of the values are in silver. When encountered the vein was only six inches in width, but it is widening and promises to develop into a good body of ore."

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, April 26.-Except for occasional

Chicago, April 26.—Except for occasional spurts of activity the wheat market was dull and much of the trading consisted of changing from May to the July delivery. There was also considerable straight liquidation by holders of the May option. Crop news was conflicting, but during the early part of the session advices from the southwest seemed to become favorable to the bears, several reports denying damage by dry weather. The market was further weakened by a weather bureau forecast of rain in Kansas. Later fresh damage reports were received and this started fair buying of July and assisted in a steadier feeling. Many local traders who had sold short early in the session advices from the southwest seemed to become favorable to the bears, several reports denying damage by dry weather. bushels. Primary receipts were 376,000 bushels, compared with 494,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 257 cars, against 191 cars last week and 173 cars one year cago reported receipts of 257 cars, against 191 cars last week and 173 cars one year ago.

Scattered liquidation by holders of the May option had a weakening effect on the corn market. Increased local receipts was the factor that induced the selling. Trading, however, was rather dull. The close was easy. July opened a shade to 'sc lower at 46 to 46%c, sold between 45%@ 45% and 46% and closed at 45%. May ranged between 46%@47 and closed at 46%. May ranged between 46%@47 and closed at 46%. May ranged between 46%@47 and closed at 46%. May ranged between 46%@467 and closed at 46%. May closed of an active demand by cash interests and pit traders. Weakness of wheat, however, caused considerable selling later in the session and resulted in an easier tone. July opened unchanged at 31, sold up to 21%@31% and then reacted to 30%@30%c. The close was at 30%c. May closed at 23%@32%. A shade lower than yesterday. Local receipts, 145 cars.

A 5c advance in the price of live hogs imparted a firm tone to the provision market at the start. This was maintained until late in the day, when profittaking in lard and ribs caused weakness. At the close July pork was off 10@12%c at 15.82%@15.85. Lard was down 2% at 8.70. Ribs were 2%c lower at 8.65.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, one car; corn, 220 cars; oats, 153 cars; hogs, 12,000 head.
